URBAN RECIPE

Dignity tastes good.

Urban Recipe thanks you for volunteering!

Thanks to your help, we made big moves to fight food insecurity in Metro Atlanta while affirming human dignity and strengthening community. Let's look at the numbers! Last month at Urban Recipe,

- We packed 865 boxes of food for mobile pantry (14,272 pounds of frozen and non-perishable food and produce were distributed to our partners!)
- We assembled 200 snack kits for those in need of immediate assistance
- We served 114 family members in the fixed pantry
- We supported the 1,106 active members of our food co-ops

With your support, we are able to provide food security to a growing number of families and individuals throughout Metro Atlanta. We're grateful for your willingness to volunteer, and would like to invite you back to join us anytime!

We'd love to have you back! Sign up for volunteer opportunities below!

Volunteer Spotlight!

This month we want to thank in a special way Dan and Sally Joyce, volunteers who have been serving

Urban Recipe's mission in a big way by helping coordinate a mobile pantry pickup with two local churches. This includes organizing food pick up, coordinating other volunteers for distribution and driving, communicating with the community about the food distribution, and helping hundreds of people each month receive food. Additionally, they come each week with other members of their church to our Wednesday Pack and Prep to support mobile pantry.

Thanks to Dan and Sally, all the St. Luke's volunteers, and all of our volunteers who make mobile pantry possible!
